ssbuilds.ebooks@gmail.com

1500 CALORIE DIET PLAN

Healthy Diet Plan for Regular People Who Want to Stay Fit

Simple • Practical • Sustainable

Introduction

In today’s busy life, most people struggle to maintain a healthy diet. Work pressure, irregular timings, lack of sleep, and easy access to junk food make it difficult to stay fit.

But the truth is, you don’t need extreme diets or expensive foods to stay healthy. A simple, balanced diet can help you feel energetic, stay in shape, and improve your overall health.

This ebook is designed for regular people—working professionals, students, and anyone with a busy lifestyle—who want a practical diet plan that actually works.

About the Author

Suraj Ambrale is a Certified Nutritionist and Fitness Coach with 3+ years of experience in training clients. He has helped many individuals achieve sustainable fat loss, better health, and improved fitness through simple and practical diet strategies. His approach focuses on consistency, real food, and long-term results instead of quick fixes.

What is a Healthy Diet?

A healthy diet means eating the right balance of nutrients your body needs every day.

It includes:

- Proteins (for muscle repair and growth)
- Carbohydrates (for energy)
- Healthy fats (for hormones and overall health)
- Fiber (for digestion)
- Vitamins and minerals (for immunity)

A balanced diet is not about eating less—it’s about eating right.

Low GI & Low GL Foods Explanation

Low GI (Glycemic Index) foods are those that release sugar slowly into the blood. This helps in keeping your energy stable and prevents sudden hunger.

Low GL (Glycemic Load) considers both the quality and quantity of carbs, making it even better for controlling blood sugar levels.

Benefits of Low GI & Low GL foods:

- Prevent energy crashes
- Help in fat loss
- Keep you full for longer
- Reduce cravings

Examples include:

- Oats
- Brown rice
- Vegetables
- Fruits like apple and orange
- Nuts and seeds

1500-Calorie Diet Plan

Breakfast (300–350 kcal):

- Oats (40g) with milk
- 5–6 almonds
- 1 boiled egg or paneer (50g)

Mid-Morning Snack (150–200 kcal):

- 1 apple or orange
- Green tea or black coffee (no sugar)

Lunch (400–450 kcal):

- 2 chapati (multigrain) or 1 cup brown rice
- 1 bowl dal or grilled chicken (100g)
- 1 bowl sabzi
- Salad (cucumber, carrot)

Evening Snack (150–200 kcal):

- Roasted chana or peanuts (30g)
- Black coffee or tea (no sugar)

Dinner (300–350 kcal):

- 1–2 chapati or small portion rice
- Paneer (100g) or chicken (100g)
- Green vegetables

Benefits of This Diet Plan

Following this diet regularly can give you:

Fat Loss:
Helps reduce body fat without starving your body.

Stable Energy Levels:
No sudden crashes or feeling tired during the day.

Better Digestion:
Fiber-rich foods improve gut health.

Improved Metabolism:
Balanced nutrients support better body function.

Long-Term Sustainability:
Easy to follow, so you can maintain it for months.

Tips for Best Results

Stay Hydrated:
Drink at least 2.5–3 liters of water daily.

Get Proper Sleep:
Aim for 6–8 hours of sleep for recovery and fat loss.

Workout Regularly:
Combine strength training and cardio 4–5 times a week.

Be Consistent:
Results come from daily habits, not perfection.

Conclusion

Staying fit doesn’t require extreme dieting or complicated plans. Simple habits, followed consistently, can completely transform your health.

Start with this diet plan, stay patient, and trust the process.

Your fitness journey begins with small daily steps. Start today. Stay consistent. See the results.